The Minister of Diversity, Inclusion, and Persons with Disabilities has announced the launch of the Canada Disability Benefit Regulations Online Engagement Tool. This accessible platform will collect insight and feedback from Canadians to help inform the design of the regulations for the new Benefit.

The Canada Disability Benefit received Royal Assent on June 22, 2023, with the intention of reducing poverty among working-age Canadians with disabilities.

In the true spirit of “Nothing About Us, Without Us”, all Canadians, especially individuals with disabilities, are invited to participate and share their views. Building a more inclusive Canada will ensure that persons with disabilities can participate fully, helping communities thrive and the economy grow.

The Canada Disability Benefit Regulations Online Engagement Tool can be accessed through the Canada.ca website until December 21, 2023. You can also click the “Read More” button at the bottom of this email to participate.
