REAL CHANGE, IN OUR COMMUNITY

HAVE YOUR SAY

January was a busy month. We moved our constituency office. We are no longer on Fraser Highway, but now are at 214-6820 188th Street.

I spent the month visiting community leaders, organizations, and businesses. I listened and heard about the issues and concerns in our community that have shifted since I was your representative in 2019. Now I am taking these issues back to Ottawa so that our community is heard in Parliament.

I want you to have your say as well. In our first 100 days we promised to pass COVID-19 supports, a ban on conversion therapy, protections for healthcare workers, and 10 days of paid sick leave for federal workers—and we did.

What would you like to see passed in the next 100 days? Let me know by filling out the postage-paid questionnaire below and sending it back to me!

HAVE YOUR SAY

What national issue or policy would you like to see addressed in Parliament in the next 100 days?

What local issue or policy would you like to see addressed in the next 100 days?

LANGLEY COMMUNITY SERVICES SOCIETY

Langley Community Services Society is a community-based, multi-service, non-profit organization that has served the Langley community for over 50 years. Since 1971, they have been delivering family and community services to both Langley municipalities. Their services include family counselling, childcare resources, settlement, and integration services. Thank you to everyone in the LCSS organization for all the work you do for newcomers to our community!

Delivering on my Local Platform

DIVERSITY & INCLUSION COUNCIL

To promote positive, progressive, and inclusive politics, I promised to convene a Diversity and Inclusion Council to create solutions that reduce inequality in our community. You can vote for our first issue of focus on my Facebook. Please send a statement of interest to John.Aldag@parl.gc.ca if you would like to join the council!

AGRICULTURAL ADVISORY COUNCIL

To support strong and sustainable agriculture in our riding, I promised to convene an Agricultural Advisory Council of farmers and other agricultural industry partners to share insights and advice. I have met with the Farmer's Institute regularly since October and will be working with other industry partners to find common solutions.

LOCAL CLIMATE CHANGE SOLUTIONS

I promised to promote real climate change solutions and create sustainable jobs in our communities. I am working with local environmental organizations and municipalities to plant trees in our community. This will create jobs, create more green space, improve biodiversity, keep us cooler during heatwaves, and prevent erosion during heavy rains.

MY VISIT TO MAKER CUBE

I had the pleasure of once again visiting Maker Cube in Langley City. Maker Cube provides access to tools and studio space for local creatives. They also hold workshops and seminars teaching welding, metal fabrication, wood working, electronics and much more. I first met Jacqueline at Maker Cube's Open House during my first term, and I am proud of how they have grown their business and created such diverse space for our community.
